Their trust was in God. They met on Cambridge Common to ask God to bless them and the plan they had made. God heard them, told them what to do, and sent one to lead them. The name of that leader was George Washington. In Virginia, Feb. 22, 1732, at Bridges Creek, George Washington was born. His house had but four rooms. At each end, on the outside, the flue went up to the top. He was born at 10 A. M. His folks were plain in their ways. The boy's dark blue eyes first saw such scenes as would be found in any farmhouse in the land. He saw a low room; a great, wide, brick fireplace; a well kept rug; a few chairs with straw seats; and a tall bedstead with posts like masts, the same sort as Washington slept in all his life. Hung up high on...
